Most building work to your property needs a Building Regulation application - including the majority of internal and external alterations.

(This is separate to any Planning Permission you may need).

Here at Poole our Building Consultancy Service provides an independent, building control and advice service.

We will help you whether you're a property owner, builder or architect to get the permission you need in the most cost effective and fuss-free way.

Once we have checked and 'signed off' your scheme, it's especially important to have a completion certificate issued so you can forward it on to any prospective buyers if you intending selling your property.

We are impartial and work with you – you are our customer.
